CAPITOL BROADCASTING COMPANY MAKES GRANT TO THE BROADCASTERS FOUNDATION OF AMERICA

Capitol Broadcasting Company, WRAL-TV-5, Raleigh, North Carolina, has made a $15,000 gift to the Broadcasters Foundation of America. Capitol President & CEO James F. Goodmon and Broadcasters Foundation of America Chair, Philip J. Lombardo, Chairman and CEO of Citadel Communications, jointly announced the benefaction.

The mission of the Broadcasters Foundation of America is to improve the quality of life and maintain the personal dignity of men and women in the radio and television broadcast profession who find themselves in acute need. The foundation reaches out across the country to identify and provide an anonymous safety net in cases of critical illness, advanced age, death of a spouse, accident and other serious misfortune.

In making the gift Goodmon said, "The Capitol Broadcasting family has been blessed with the good fortune of being part of the broadcasting industry. The work of the Broadcasters Foundation of America provides us with the opportunity to help colleagues who have fallen upon difficult times. We at Capitol Broadcasting believe that giving back is an important part of our every day commitment to the greater community."

Broadcasters Foundation of America Chair Phil Lombardo said, “Jim Goodmon and Capitol Broadcasting enjoy a remarkable reputation for excellence and leadership throughout the broadcasting industry. We are extremely proud to have Jim and Capitol Broadcasting as partners in support of our mission.”

About the Broadcasters Foundation of America

Founded in 1946 as a professional association by legendary broadcaster H.V. Kaltenborn, the original “Twenty Year Club” became the Broadcast Pioneers in the 1950s. It continued to operate under the title Broadcast Pioneers until 1995 when the foundation was reorganized and assumed its formal name the Broadcasters’ Foundation. In keeping with the national scope of its mission of providing financial assistance to broadcasters who are in acute need the name was changed to the Broadcasters Foundation of America in 2007. The foundation is based in Greenwich, Connecticut.
